Easter at Monticello. Mr. and Mrs. Carl von Mayhoff and Master Monroe von Mayhoff have reached Monticello, where Mrs. von Mayhoff dispenses hospitality on behalf of her brother, Jefferson Levy, of New York. The von Mayhoffs were at home to their friends yesterday, and will spend Easter at Monticello.

Dinner Party at Morven. Mrs. Samuel H. Marshall gave a very delightful dinner Tuesday evening at her beautiful home, "Morven," near Monticello, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Boardman Smith's guests, Baronesses Isia and Kathrine von Munchausen, of Germany.

Covers were laid for ten. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Pitts, Mr. and Mrs. Boardman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Hempstead, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall.

In the breakfast room were Misses Violet White, Josephine Marshall, Baronesses Kathrine and Isia von Munchausen, Messrs. Guterson, Boston, Walsh, Albert, Bolling, Lawrence Martin, Sam and Page Marshall.

Violets and Cowslips. All a-growing and a-blowing, with the dew still on their pretty faces, a shower of violets and cowslips has transformed the rooms of the Women's Exchange into a bower of springtime beauty and fragrance. It makes the heart grow young just to look at such a wealth of blossoms and imagine how they are springing up in the gardens from which they have been plucked to grace and perfume.

Personal Mention. Mrs. James W. Osborne, of New York, is with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Julia Grant Moore.

Miss Lucy Harrison Wade, after a very pleasant month spent in Newport News, has returned to Richmond.

American Author Dies in Italy

F. MARION CRAWFORD.

NOTED NOVELIST PASSES AWAY AT ITALIAN VILLA

SORRENTO, April 9.—F. Marion Crawford, the novelist, died here at 7:30 o'clock to-night. He was born in 1854.

Mr. Crawford had been ill for some time, one of the symptoms of his affliction being fevers, which tended greatly to weaken him. Professor Enrico di Renzi, director of the American clinic of the University of Naples, was called into consultation at the Villa Crawford some ten days ago, and found serious bronchial and pleuritic complications. His illness had its origin in an attack of influenza. Death came peacefully and while his entire family were at the bedside. Mr. Crawford's oldest son had arrived hastily from London. Until this afternoon the patient retained consciousness, but apparently he knew that the end was near, and with calmness he encouraged his family to bear up and to cease weeping. The novelist's last words were: "I enter serenely into eternity."

According to the attending physician, Mr. Crawford collapsed last night, owing to extreme weakness. He was without fever. Sadly he expressed the presentiment that he was soon to die, but almost immediately afterwards, when referring to the approaching Good Friday, he said: "I die with Christ." Mr. Crawford's daughter, at his request, then read to him Plato's dialogues, the novelist declaring that they taught him serenity in death.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Villa Crawford, near Sorrento, on Friday morning, April 10, at 10 o'clock. The funeral was attended by a large number of friends and relatives.

Mr. Crawford was a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, and had received many honors from his native country and abroad.

Virginia Association to Hear Address To-Day by Arthur L. Bostwick and Others.

FULL PROGRAM ARRANGED

Importance of Public Library in Every-Day Life to Be Explained in Detail.

Arthur L. Bostwick, chief of the department of circulation of the New York Public Library, will be the principal speaker at the evening session of the Library Association of Virginia in the auditorium of Richmond College to-night at 8:15 o'clock. His subject will be "Current Library Progress in the United States." Mr. Bostwick has been assistant editor of The Forum, associate editor of the Standard Dictionary, and editor of the science department of the Literary Digest. From 1895 to 1899 he served as chief librarian of the New York Free Circulating Library, from 1899 to 1901 as librarian of the Brooklyn Public Library, and since 1901 has been chief of the department of circulation of the New York Public Library. He has been president of the New York Library Club, the Long Island Library Club, the New York State Library Association, the American Library Association, and since 1901 has been a representative of the American Library Association to this meeting of the Library Association of Virginia.

Afternoon Session. The afternoon session of the association will be held in the courtroom of the Corporation Commission, in the Capitol. The following is the program: "The Establishment of a Library in a Village," by H. M. McManaway, principal of the Toano High School, and Librarian of the Toano High School Library Association; "Explanation of the Law of Virginia Relating to the Establishment of Public Libraries," by S. S. P. Patterson, of the Virginia State Library Board; "The Selection of Books," by M. L. Bostwick, principal of the Nicholson School, Richmond; "The Value of the Library to the College Student," by Professor S. W. McWhorter, of Hampden-Sydney College, and "The Relation of the State Library to the Other Libraries in the State," by H. R. McIlwaine, of the State Library.

This session will begin at 3 o'clock. Edmund Pendleton, of the Virginia State Library Board, will preside at each session of the association.

The local committee of arrangements consists of Miss Jane Rutherford, chairman; Dr. J. C. Metcalf, Dr. C. H. Ryland, Rev. James Nelson, John Stewart Bryan, Mrs. W. R. Cox, Miss Katharine Hicks, Miss E. B. Martin, Eugene C. Massie, E. C. Cox, Dr. Moses D. Hoge, Albert H. Hill, Mrs. Belno Johnson, W. G. Stanard, Miss Carrie Campbell and Mrs. John S. Munce.

FEW IN MARKET. Lee Says Nearly All Elizabeth Oysters Are Used for Seed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, Va., April 9.—In response to a call from citizens interested Chairman McDonald Lee, of the State Fisheries Commission, arrived in Norfolk to-day, and in reply to recent reports that the oysters grown in the Elizabeth River and branches are contaminated and unfit for food, had the following to say: "These published reports tend to be very detrimental to the oyster trade of Norfolk and Portsmouth, but when the true facts are fully developed and presented to the effect will be very different. I do not believe that 5 or 10 per cent. of the oysters from the Elizabeth River and its branches, the larger part of the oysters coming from the James and York rivers and the Eastern Shore, all of which points have been given a clean bill of health by the State Health Department.

"The greater part of the oyster output of the Elizabeth River and its branches, comparatively small at best, are of the seed stock variety and moved before maturity to other waters."

FOR NEW RAILROAD. Mass-Meeting to Push Project Held at Salisbury.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] SALISBURY, N. C., April 9.—A meeting here last night in the interest of the Winston-Salem and South Branch Railroad was largely attended by citizens from Monroe, Concord, Mt. Pleasant, Salisbury, Spencer, Winston and other points along the proposed route for the new road. The meeting was presided over by L. H. Clement, and a proposed charter was read by Attorney T. J. Jerome, of this city.

The plan for building the road from Winston-Salem to Spencer, Salisbury, Concord and Monroe contemplates the issuance of $1,000,000 of 4 per cent. bonds per mile of road, which is to be capitalized at $1,000,000. Short addresses were made last night by P. S. Varney, J. K. Norfield, G. H. Webb, W. T. Brown, of Winston-Salem; W. H. Burton and J. P. Crowell, of Spencer; J. A. Peeler and J. C. Shuping, of Smith; Jonas Cook and W. K. Kenly, of Mt. Pleasant; W. C. Brewer, F. G. Henderson, C. P. Little, of Monroe, and others, all of whom advocated the building of the proposed road.

It was the consensus of opinion that each township through which the road is to pass will, when the time comes, vote to issue bonds for the construction of the line. It was agreed that books of subscription shall be opened at once, and it is proposed that another meeting for the purpose of discussing the plan for building the road.

Chesterley—Bristolov. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, Va., April 9.—Miss Charles L. Chesterley, of Stafford county, and Mrs. Ruth Decker Bristolov, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Decker, of Orange county, were married yesterday at the residence of the bride, the father of the bride performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Chesterley left for a North-Carolina bride trip, and will make their home in Stafford county, near this city, upon their return.

Saves Bars and Escapes. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINCHESTER, Va., April 9.—James Pleasant Underhill, a Berryville burglar, escaped jail there last night by sawing through the iron bars of his cell. Edgar D. Dunbar, warden, conducted the same cell, was left behind while asleep.

Receives a Call. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LEBESBURG, Va., April 9.—Rev. Frank P. Berkeley, pastor of the Baptist Church at Leesburg and North York, Loudoun county, has received a call to the pastorate of the Baptist Church at Covington, Allegheny county, to succeed Rev. W. R. Rickman, who has resigned. Mr. Berkeley has the matter under consideration.

Fact Is Made Known After Acquittal of Her Father for Murder. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINCHESTER, Va., April 9.—Miss Gertrude Cloud, daughter of Andrew Cloud, who was acquitted yesterday of the murder of his brother-in-law, North Shirley, and Valentine Hardy, who also figured prominently in the trial, were married a few days ago at Hagerstown. The marriage was kept secret until to-day.

It was Miss Cloud's testimony that largely influenced the jury in the acquittal of her father. Cloud and his family have sold their property, "The Corners," this county, and will move to Martinsburg, W. Va.

DR. BALLARD GETS MEDAL. He Is Honored for Saving Dog from Well on Mountain.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ASHBVILLE, N. C., April 8.—Dr. A. M. Ballard has been awarded the gold medal offered by the American Humane Society for the most notable act of kindness to dogs or horses during the year. The medal was received yesterday, and is the first of the kind given by the association, though heretofore one will be given every year. The act for which Dr. Ballard received recognition was the saving of a dog from a well on Heaucter Mountain last June, an incident, he said, he had almost forgotten when he received notice of the awarding of the medal.

Hours of Father's Death. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, Va., April 9.—Mrs. Yates, wife of Adjutant Yates, who is in charge of the Lynchburg corps of the Salvation Army, received last night a letter from her home at Forest Gate, Essex county, Eng., of the death of her father, Richard Baker, which occurred there as the result of a fall on March 27. A few days ago Mrs. Yates was apprised by letter that her father had sustained a fall, but the letter bringing news of the death came as a great surprise to the daughter. Mr. Baker was about eighty years of age. Mrs. Yates has not been at home for fourteen years.
